Dear friends and colleagues,

It is a great pleasure and honor for me to invite you again to Rome to participate to the seventh edition of the Italian-French Symposium which will take place the 23rd to the 24th of May, 2019.

Also this year the theme will focus on the oncological abdominal surgery, with two sessions of Live Surgery which will include hepatobiliary, pancreatic and digestive operations for cancer, performed by the most important surgeons in this field.

It will be a great pleasure for me to welcome in our city talented specialists from France and Italy to debate on different issues about the digestive surgery with a particular attention on results and outcomes of the different centers in hepatic, pancreatic and gastrointestinal surgery. The exciting news of this year's edition is that we are going to have a session dedicated to retroperitoneal, urological and gynecological tumors, that may be interesting for oncologic surgeons as well.

Not to mention I hope you may have the opportunity to live completely the beauty of Rome in late spring.

Best regards,

Giuseppe Maria Ettore
